

Here's something you don't want to miss out on!

After seeking feedback from many females in the Advice Industry about how they can access support to build a more successful business AND in a female friendly environment, we are really excited to officially launch our first workshop in the series we call "The Naked Truth".

The Naked Truth Workshops have been designed for females in the Advice Industry to access powerful business advice, without the spin. Here you can learn and interact in an environment which delivers relevant information to inspire, to motivate and to develop lifelong networks.... and most importantly, drive your business growth.

The first workshop is around building a client centric business through exploring new and exciting approaches to attracting new clients, positioning your business ahead of the competition or creating a culture that gets clients raving about you (other workshops with different, yet relevant content will follow shortly after). The two women that will help make it happen, Kim Payne (from Experience Wealth Consulting) and Rachel Staggs (from SRS Coaching and Consulting) both passionately love to help make things simple, yet meaningful when it comes to helping advice businesses make a difference and achieve what is important to them. And most importantly, we love working with other successful women.

What you need to know:

1. This is a female only interactive workshop which would appeal to Advisers, support staff, general managers and business owners
2. We guarantee participants will leave the workshop armed with proven and relevant information to ensure their business success post FoFA
3. It will better position yourself and your business to take the next step and be successful, now and into the future (and get your CPD points at the same time!)

The first workshop is being run in Melbourne on Thursday 26th July and there are only 15 seats available.

Dates for other states:

- Sydney 29th August
- Brisbane 30th August
- Adelaide 13th September

To find out more and to register your seat at the table, jump onto <http://www.nakedtruthworkshops.com> as soon as possible. We will make it worth your while!
