

I've got insurance in my superannuation. Why would I need more?

Insurance in super can be a good starting point, but it's worth considering whether it caters to all your needs, and if you even have enough.

We've seen too many people disappointed where they have relied solely on their insurance cover in their superannuation. And it didn't have to be this way.

Knowing exactly what your covered for and the conditions of the cover can be tricky to understand. It's not straight forward and it can vary across different superannuation providers.

Sometimes a combination of insurance through your super plus other policies to top up and fill in any gaps, can be the best way to cover all bases.

QUESTION:

Are you confident the insurance you've got through your super will cover you if an unexpected 'what-if' happened? If you're not sure, let us shed a light.
